Taking the above into consideration, we recommend that you proceed with your application to the appropriate funding agency.

As the applicant, you have the responsibility to contact reviewers to discuss and clarify questions or concerns stated in any attached comments. Each reviewer's name, agency, and phone number appears on the transmittal form.

Remember to submit a copy of this letter and all attached comments to the funding agency with your application. Also, include your statement that the comments have been considered before submission of your project.

The results of this review are valid for one year. A continuation or renewal application must be submitted to the State Clearinghouse and impacted Area Clearinghouse(s) annually. An application not submitted to the funding agency, or not funded within one year after completion of this review, must be resubmitted to receive a valid intergovernmental review.

Note the State Applicant Identifier Number -- this must appear as Item #3 on federal Standard Notification Form 424, a federally required transmittal sheet that must accompany your grant application.

Sincerely,
